JOB DESCRIPTION

Title: Prevention Educator
Date: January 2024
Reports to: Prevention Education Manager
Status: Full Time, Non-Exempt

Summary
CFJ seeks a dynamic and charismatic prevention educator to create, deliver, and evaluate social change initiatives. CFJ is a mission-driven organization dedicated to creating schools, educational institutions, workplaces, and communities that are free from all forms of violence. The ideal candidate will have exemplary interpersonal and public speaking skills, initiative, and will be highly collaborative.

Responsibilities

Program Services

- Delivers effective age-appropriate prevention curricula to children and youth in grades K-12, universities/colleges, youth serving community organizations, athletes and coaches, parent groups, and other community stakeholders working to prevent violence.
- Works collaboratively with Training Director to deliver professional development trainings to school staff and administrators as well as youth serving community organizations in the best practices in violence prevention and creating trauma informed communities for survivors.
- Establishes and maintains strong collaborative relationships community partners and identities additional community influencers to enhance prevention education and social change initiatives.
- Provide technical assistance on prevention best practices in policy and practice to ensure safe, equitable, and inclusive schools and communities.
- Participates in community outreach events and activities, including but not limited to, school-based health and wellness fairs, interagency meetings, and community events.
- Collaborates with Pathways to HOPE / Camp HOPE America – Bridgeport team on year-round mentoring and empowerment programming including overnight summer camp.
- Researches, implements, and evaluates innovative evidence-based violence prevention curricula and community level prevention projects.
- Engages in professional development opportunities that focus on prevention including best practices to engage men and boys, influence of the sports community, mobilizing bystanders, community activism, social change strategies, and public speaking/engagement skills.
- Supports student disclosures using trauma-informed best practices, reports disclosure according to DCF guidelines for mandated reporters, follows all confidentiality principles, and maintains accurate and complete records of student disclosures.
Agency

- Assists in the coordination of community engagement activities during national awareness and prevention months - Domestic Violence Awareness Month (October), Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month (February), and Sexual Assault Awareness Month (April) and Child Abuse Prevention Month (April).
- Participates in all appropriate CFJ meeting and trainings.
- Participates in agency events throughout the year.
- Special projects as assigned.

Qualifications Required

- Associate degree in human services, education, communications, sociology, or closely related field with experience in delivering prevention education and/or teaching.
- Understanding of best practices in violence prevention and social change.
- Experience in curricula development and evaluation.
- Excellent communication skills including dynamic public speaking skills and writing skills.
- Proven ability to work with diverse and marginalized communities.
- Excellent time management and organizational skills.
- Flexible schedule – availability for some evening and weekend programming.
- Successful completion of CFJ’s state mandated 40-hour domestic and sexual violence certification training.
- Strong commitment to CFJ’s vision and mission.
- Daily access to car with valid CT driver’s license.

Preferred

- Experience in digital marketing and graphic design tools (Adobe photoshop, Adobe illustrator, Canva, e-newsletter creation software).
- Experience with online training and event platforms (Big Marker, zoom).
- Knowledge of trauma informed best practices for survivors of trauma.
- Bilingual in English and Spanish or Portuguese.
- Computer literacy, including data entry experience, Microsoft office, internet, and e-mail.

The Center for Family Justice is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, or any other protected class.

Note: The above statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work being performed by people assigned to the classification. They reflect the essential elements and general responsibilities of the position but are not intended to be construed as an exhaustive list of all responsibilities, duties and skills required of personnel so classified. The performance of all essential functions listed is subject to reasonable accommodation in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act.